Making the Right Choice to Sleeping a Better Night

Site Purpose:

The purpose of this website is intended to give the user information of local and convenient hotel arrangements that are adjacent to local temples of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. While they have the chance to get great accommodations and services that they will learn about through the site. The intent is also to promote or provide information about this faith and show them the beauty we have seen as we have made it a goal to build or be near these magnificent edifices. Also, it seemed appropriate to allow information to be given about functions that the temples provide, with times and dates that will be kept up to date. So next time you plan a wedding you can know you will have the peace of mind, we keep you in mind for your big wedding date! We want to keep the reverence in our hotels and sites to compliment the atmosphere of the temple nearby,

The site will not be very complicated, but user friendly to help gain access to the information that they are seeking. It will be responsive and helpful toward planning these exciting moments to come in the residence we will take into our hotels. We wish them the best and want to give the best.

Target Audience:

My audience for this site will be for the general public ranging. Understanding that anyone could be able to access the site and be able to find out what schedules and information will be there. This group could also include those wishing to be married in one of the nearby temples. Also, the intent of that age range is for the leaders of church groups or youth trips will be able to navigate the page with ease to coordinate efforts for these temple trips.

Becky and Bob- They are about to get married in 2 weeks and want to make sure they can reserve a spot in the temple to have a sealing take place. They need to be able to get the details and turn around and share them with their friends as quickly as possible.

Rexburg 999th Ward- The leaders of the ward are in plans to set up a temple trip. They want to know when the baptistry will be open and available and what to make sure they can rent clothes.

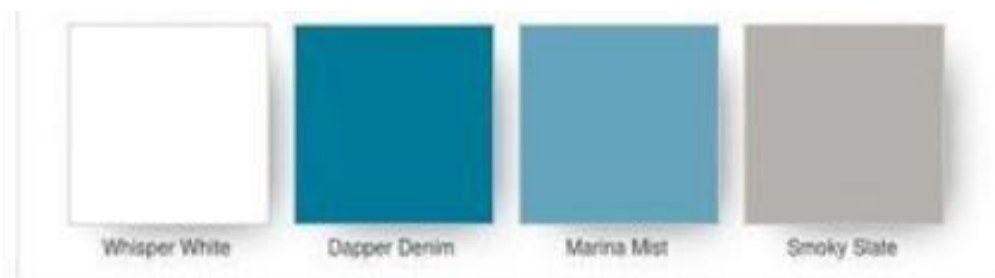

Scenario 1: A recent couple from BYU has decided to get married, they wish to be able to pick a date at one of their temples of choice. Instead of calling and being told it might be closed for cleaning or renovations, they decide to search the site to understand when and what times these services are available. They find the page and then call the temple to clarify the appointment and book a reservation next to the temple.

Scenario 2: The local ward has decided to make a youth temple trip, with that in mind the bishop and the local leaders coordinate when it would be most attended. After they find the temple number on the page and elect to call and reserve a time when the baptistry is open for use.
